DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, PROPRIETOR.

From the Louisville Courier

REPUBLICAN GOVERNMENT.

The Constitution imposes upon Congress the duty of seeing that every State has a republican form of government. In the reconstruction plan Congress, and the party which backs it, profess to be simply fulfilling the requirement. How far they have wandered from the true theory of republican government it requires no argument to show. It is evident that the policy adopted tends in precisely the opposite direction, and that, so far from fulfilling the requirement of the Constitution, that requirement is scandalously defied. Nothing like the establishment of republican government has been attempted, nor has any such thing been desired by those who hold the reins of power. A very brief examination into the nature of a republican government will satisfy any candid inquirer of this fact. A republican government is a government of the people. Ours was established as a government of white people, in which the negro was only known as a slave. The governments which Congress proposes to establish in the Southern States are neither governments of the people nor are the people as a mass represented in them. A large portion of the white population is excluded from all participation in them, while the greater part of the blacks are invested with the right of suffrage and made eligible to hold office.

We have in Tennessee an example of the sort of government proposed. That State is now the most down trodden, disorderly and unhappy of any either in or out of the Union. The elective franchise there is a farce, and the government is propelled and upheld by a few hundred militia, backed by the power of Congress and the military commanders. A more anti-republican government could not be contrived, and yet Congress takes no steps to see that Tennessee shall have a republican form of government. Prating about the Constitution and its duty under it, that body looks calmly on while the most complete and odious despotism the world ever saw is being established over the people. Pretending to discharge their duty and obey their oaths, they evade the one and betray the other. In the name of liberty they erect despotisms and extort from an impoverished people the means wherewith to uphold their tyrannies. Can it be possible that this state of things will long continue? God forbid.

From the Baltimore Gazette.

SHERIDAN.—Nothing can be more pitifully ludicrous than the efforts now being made to exalt General Sheridan to the level of a Napoleon. A brave, active officer, it was his good fortune to outnumber largely the adversaries against whom he was pitted in the Valley of Virginia and thereby to achieve several successes. He was luckily, moreover, with a large and well appointed force, close upon the line of Gen'ral Lee's surrender and gained very considerable credit. Further than this, nothing more can truthfully be said in his praise. But General Sheridan has consented to serve the Radical party and the Radical party finds it necessary to make the country accept General Sheridan as the idol of the hour. Nothing that claptrap and falsification, noise and adulation can do to excite popular enthusiasm has been left untried, but so far the result has been a lamentable and dismal failure. Whatever may be his soldierly qualities, General Sheridan has shown that he lacks wholly the capacity which fits men for statesmen or rulers.—His ideas are certainly about as meagre and commonplace as ever constituted the stock in trade of a man aspiring to a high place among those who guide the destinies of nations. He can rise to no higher comprehension of the stupendous crisis which has convulsed a continent and shattered the greatest republic the world has ever known than the chatterers in "loyal leagues."

GOV. THROCKMORTON, OF TEXAS.—A private letter from Collin County informs us that Gov. Throckmorton is now pursuing his farming operations in that county, with far more apparent cheerfulness and satisfaction than he ever experienced in the trying and very thankless labors of the Executive office. He indulges in no bitterness against the Government for his removal, but evidently feels thankful to be rid of the heavy responsibilities that devolved upon him. In his conversation, he says he feels a consciousness of having done all that was possible, under the circumstances, for the welfare of the State and the honor of the people. He says no one can ever know or appreciate the many difficult and delicate questions with which he had to deal. He expresses himself grateful to the people and press of the South, and especially of the State, for their endorsement and commendation of his public course, which he feels to be the highest reward he could possibly receive.

We will take this occasion to say that however much Gov. Throckmorton has been and is still abused by the Radical press, North and South, the day will come when he will receive the most ample vindication, and when his unselfish patriotism, his political consistency and his superior abilities as a statesman will be universally acknowledged.—Galveston News.

ALABAMA.—Mobile city and county give a melancholy proof of the baleful effect of the system of military repression. The election on the convention shows 3,089 blacks and 32 whites. There is not a right-minded man of either party who will not lament the spectacle of a population reduced to such a state of despair that in the making of an organic law the polls are surrendered to the negroes. General Swayne, who commands in Alabama, is said to be an aspirant for the post of United States Senator; but even this prize, if obtained, ought to afford him no consolation, if he shall have a chance to consider how the result has been achieved.—National Intelligencer.

A dispatch to the New York Herald from New Orleans says the newly enfranchised freedmen have the election all to themselves, and enjoy the change hugely, parading the streets in holiday costumes, and armed with knives, revolvers, and heavy bludgeons. All respectable persons contemplate the disgusting spectacle with the detestation it deserves.

DeMather, formely a captain in the Confederate army, walked from Vera Cruz, Mexico, to Memphis, Tennessee—3,190 miles—in 145 days, being about 22 miles per day. What is the more singular, he had to walk with a crutch, as a wound in his ankle, received while in the Imperial army of Mexico, made him lame.

THE MANAGEMENT OF THIS COMPANY IS upon the Mutual Benefit System—the accumulated profits going to the assured.

This company makes a special deposit with the Insurance Department of the State, for which Registered policies are issued if desired, countersigned by the Superintendent of the Insurance Department of the State of New York, certifying that such policies are secured by pledge of public stocks.

No other Company gives the assured a guarantee of this character or anything equivalent.

Thirty days of grace are allowed on all renewed premiums, and the policy remains valid in force during that time.

No restrictions as to travel or residence within at any season of the year, [illegible] which gives a nearly world-wide and unconditional policy.

No higher rate of premium charged for stationary Engineers, Conductors, Baggage Masters, Mail Agents, nor in consequence of change of employment after the policy is issued.

Notes are not required by this Company, but a loan may be obtained on the policy for one third of the annual premium, which is cancelled by the profits applied as dividends.

Joint policies, including man and wife, are issued by this Company, and the amount insured is payable to the survivor on the death of either.

THE SOUTH—PRESENT AND FUTURE.

The results of registration, under the disabling operation of the Reconstruction Acts, demonstrate conclusively that nearly every one of the Southern States must pass infallibly under negro domination. Even in cases where the white voting element is in the ascendant, the purpose of the Radical majority to Africanize and Radicalize these States is being apparently subserved by some of those entrusted with the execution of the laws. In Virginia, where the white majority is large, and in Georgia, where, though it is small, it is nevertheless a majority, the election districts have been so arranged as to give the blacks the power to choose a large excess of delegates of their own color to the Conventions, which are entrusted with the solemn responsibility and complicated task of framing the organic law of those time honored Commonwealths. In North Carolina, the white majority will probably be larger than in any of the other ten States, and we feel every confidence that our District Commander will not prevent, by a strained apportionment, the just and proper ratio of representation in the Convention.

But alas! for our sister States. Can a departure, more radical or more hazardous, from the nature and requirements of a free popular government be imagined, than is involved in the political supremacy of an ignorant and inferior, not to say semi-barbarous and degraded caste, over the proud Anglo-Saxon race? What sort of legislation, what kind of government, can be expected at the hands of such a people, led by that class among the whites who seem, as a general rule, to control them? Can the delicate machinery of government be manipulated by hands used only to the coarsest labor and by "brains unaccustomed to think?" As models of wise and humane government, based upon the soundest and most approved principles of English law, the constitutions and codes of most of the Southern States have been well guarded and admirable,—securing justice to all classes, protecting the weak and restraining the strong hand of violence and oppression. They have been the work of men of wisdom, of purity and of moderation. It is a terrible thought that these old and time-honored monuments of the sagacity and virtue of statesmen, jurists and sound-thinkers, are to be thrown aside, and re-modeled by inexperience and ignorance directed by [illegible] are powerless to avert the evil. Our fate is in the hands of the people of the North.—They refuse the negro, as a general rule, political and civil rights and privileges among themselves. Will they allow,—now that such a result stares them in the face, as the result of Radical legislation,—their white brethren of the South to be placed under the heel of a rule, from which they can perhaps never recover?

If what we behold in the "green tree" is so sad and revolting to contemplate, what will it be "in the dry?" We are as thoroughly convinced, as we are that the sun shines over our heads, that, under the altered relations of society and government, the white people of the South, had they unrestricted freedom of action, would withhold from the colored race no political or civil rights to which their condition entitles them. Many of them are now capable of exercising them intelligently and judiciously, and, in the process of time and under proper cultivation, the masses of the rising generation could be educated to become good and rational citizens. But to invest such a race, at one fell swoop, with the highest attributes of enlightened civism, when thousands of life long voters, and of men who have made government and our institutions their study, are despoiled of these attributes, is a crime which, as it has no precedent in historic madness, will be without parallel in its deplorable results.

We will guarantee that no intelligent lawyer of even the city of Boston could contemplate the spectacle, daily presented in our Courts, of negroes fresh from the corn-field and the hovel filling our jury-boxes, and sitting in judgment upon the most complicated issues of fact and the most vexed problems of law, without shuddering. But this is not half the picture.—A negro Judge, wrapped in the sacred ermine, sits on the bench in New Orleans, dispensing justice and representing the majesty of Law!

"All this is good enough for rebels!"—That is the justification. Human nature has reversed its laws, and "blood is no longer thicker than water."

CONSERVATIVE MASS MEETING.—The Conservative Mass Meeting of the County of Wake will be held in this City, on Saturday next, the 12th. inst.

The following gentlemen have been invited to be present, and address the meeting: Gov. Graham, Gov. Vance, Gov. Bragg, B. F. Moore, Esq., Judge Merrimon, Judge Howard, Hon. C. C. Clark, Col. Robert Strange, Hon. Josiah Turner and R. Y. McAden, Esq. We are not yet prepared to announce who or how many of them will be in attendance.

GEN. COL. HAWKINS, of New York, in an address to Gen. Sheridan, the other day, said to him that he welcomed him "as the most magnificent soldier of any country or of any age." Sheridan swallowed it all.

LOUISIANA AND ALABAMA.—It is believed that the people of Alabama and Louisiana have ordered State Conventions under the Reconstruction Acts, by small majorities

THE HENDERSON AGRICULTURAL FAIR.

The energy and public spirit displayed by the promoters of the Henderson Agricultural Fair, which will come off on the 16th, 17th and 18th of the present month, cannot be too highly commended. We had hoped that their perseverance under unto ward circumstances, and their success last year, would have provoked other counties and sections to imitate their example, but in this we are disappointed. The exhibition, last year, was highly creditable, but the arrangements which are being made for the Fair the present month warrant the highest expectations. The list of premiums is excellent, and the number of candidates for premiums will be very large. The exhibition, we judge will exceed any former effort. Arrangements have been made with the Rail Roads to convey passengers and articles for exhibition, to and fro, for one fare, and every effort will be made to give it unwonted success. A popular speaker, Col. Scales, of Rockingham, has been selected to deliver the address, and we hope the best spirit of emulation will be excited among farmers, mechanics and artisans of every grade.

Associations of this kind, if properly conducted, must accomplish great good in stirring up the energy of our people and exciting an ambition to excel in every industrial pursuit. It is important that strict care should be taken to preserve them from all demoralizing influences, such as drinking, gaming or betting. This will be done, doubtless, by the excellent managers of this Association, and all classes of our people will resort to the Fair, as a source of profitable recreation, to catch the same spirit of enterprise which marks the efforts of those concerned in this Fair, and to obtain valuable information. We predict for it a complete success.

THE UNIVERSITY.

We knew, when we penned our article, some time since, in relation to the re-organization of the University of North Carolina, and alluded to the feeling of interest entertained for it by its old graduates and natives of the State now in other States, that we should strike a chord which would vibrate powerfully in the hearts of its friends.—There is a feeling of North Carolina pride among our people, wherever scattered, that turns at once to the old North State, and which enters warmly into all her sympathies and interests.

We received a private letter from an old graduate of the Institution, on yesterday. He is connected with an old and highly respectable Commission House in Norfolk, Va., and an extract from his letter, though it was not designed for publication, we cannot withhold from our readers. He says:

"I noticed in your paper an article appealing to North Carolinians everywhere to contribute to the re-establishment and support of that noble old institution, the University at Chapel Hill. The appeal is patriotic, and no son or daughter of the old North State can be indifferent to it, no matter how distant they may be from their native State. [illegible] my limited means will not admit of any contribution in money, but, to show my willingness to aid in this noble work, I will give three-fourths of my commissions on all produce I receive for the next twelve months towards it, from all the Counties in the State North, North-west and North-east of Wake County. One thousand bales of cotton will make my contribution equal to about $1,500. Five thousand bales will make it equal to $8,000. Let the North Carolina merchants in Petersburg, Norfolk, Richmond, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York all agree to do as much, and let the farmers, merchants and others throughout the State patronize such merchants, and then there will be but little difficulty in reviving the noble old institution."

"The Standard says: 'It could be proved, if necessary, that one of the 'young men' who carried round the call for signers, stated that the meeting was indispensable to sustain the Sentinel, in view of the fact that the Register, by its recent course, was about to take the wind out of its sails. In other words, the meeting was called by Mr. Pell himself, and the main object with him was to sustain his newspaper. It was a purely selfish movement.'"

We clip the foregoing from the Wilmington Post. The Post we consider more respectable, and for this reason alone we notice it. We are sorry to find it in such bad company. It is not necessary, in this community, for us to do any anything which may appear in the paper from which the above is quoted. It has attained to the bad eminence of "the man who will not be believed," if, perchance, he "happens to tell the truth." In this case, we need not say, the above statement was manufactured from the whole cloth. We defy the proof. No young or old man was authorized to make any such false statement, and, if it was done, which we do not believe, the person made it upon his own responsibility and without any shadow of evidence that it was true. The whole thing is a fabrication, so far as the Sentinel or its Proprietor is concerned. The Post quotes other things from the same source equally unworthy of credit.

STATE CONVENTION OF CONSERVATIVES. We perceive that at most of the Conservative meetings held in the State recently, they have appointed delegates to meet in a State Convention, to be held here, as suggested, on the 16th. of the present month.

Observing that a good deal of doubt was expressed as to the utility of meeting at that time, the notice being too short and the time recommended too near the probable election of delegates to the Convention for drafting a new Constitution, we suggested that it was advisable that no Conservative Convention be called as early as the 16th. Yet we think it very proper that the County Meetings should continue to be held for County organization, and that delegates to a State Conservative Convention be appointed at each County meeting, that they may be in readiness to assemble in Convention, whenever such a meeting shall be generally desired. If the majority shall prefer the meeting on the 16th. of October, we can see no harm in it; yet a later one would, in our judgment, effect more good.

STATE ITEMS.

——A Conservative mass meeting of the citizens of Rowan has been called for Tuesday, the 15th. inst.

——Gen. Hill is still in Kentucky, canvassing for the "Land We Love" and receiving, everywhere, the most flattering attentions. The Charlotte News says that he has averaged twenty-five subscriptions daily.

——Rev. Dr. William Hodges, Rector of Emanuel Church, (Episcopal,) Warrenton, has resigned his pastoral charge.

——The Conservatives of Mecklenburg are to have a meeting in Charlotte to-morrow.

——The Editor of the Henderson Index learned, while on a visit to Kittrell's Springs College, last week, that there were in attendance over 170 students, the present session. The success of this institution shows the high appreciation of the public of its locality and of the abilities of its President and Faculty. We are glad to learn that all our Female schools and Colleges are nearly filled with pupils, notwithstanding the tightness of the times.

——The Editor of the Old North State was at Davidson Court the first part of last week. He makes the following gratifying announcement:

"We did not ourself converse with Mr. Settle on political subjects, but we learned from one of his brother members of the bar that he has abandoned the Holden platform and goes with the Register. Dr. Pugh, a leading Republican of High Point, with whom we conversed, takes the same course, as does that honest man and pure patriot, Jonathan Harris, a leading man among the Quakers of that county. These gentlemen, with Mr. Dick, will carry with them a large majority of the Republicans of Guilford, so we are informed by Republican authority."

——The Greensboro' Patriot, whose Editor was in attendance on Randolph Superior Court, gives the subjoined account of matters and things, "then and there:"

"We attended Randolph Superior Court last week, Judge Mitchell presiding. His Honor is a patient, impartial, industrious and learned Judge, who discharges all the duties devolving upon him, with honor to himself and the approbation of the public. Quite a number of cases on both the State and Civil dockets were disposed of. The most important result of the week's work was the crowding of the jail with convicts, there to remain from six to eight months, at the expense of the county. This mode of punishing criminals for crimes committed cannot be long endured by our impoverished and tax burdened people.

The Freedmen's Bureau was present and operated in a way that practically illustrated all the great principles professed to be inaugurated by its establishment and continuance among us. No better agent could have been selected for this purpose than W. F. Henderson, of Lexington, North Carolina.

A portion of the military forces stationed at this place, made a flying visit to Ashboro, and there remained for some two or three days. One man was put under arrest and so held for some time after sundown. But when he was released, and what he was arrested for, we could find no two who gave exactly the same account. There is another matter in which the military took action, enough and they let pass unnoticed. We allude to their seizing of the poor peaceable citizens of the county, who had, from necessity, perhaps, been compelled to put upon their new home spun coats old Confederate buttons, and holding them in durance vile in the streets of the town untill they were all clipped off their garments. This created some little excitement among those who were so unfortunate as to have a Confederate button on their outer garments. Most of them retired hastily in every direction, and either clipped off the buttons themselves in a private room or took off their coats or vests and laid them on top or inside their wagons. It so happened that most of those who had Confederate buttons on their coats, vests and pants, were noted for their loyalty to the government of the United States. Indeed, we were told that one who was clipped clean of all his Confederate ornaments, had but a short time before been declaring for a long time and in a boisterous manner the thorough soundness of his radical principles and devotion to the Radical party. But after his coat was cleaned of its shining Confederate ornaments, he sang low.

This is the manner in which the fatted calf is being killed to welcome the return of the prodigal children to the "home" of their fathers. We will no longer weep for the dead, but for the living."

THE THREATENED IMPEACHMENT.—In consequence, we suppose, of the probability of a Republican defeat in the coming elections, the threat of impeachment (that universal panacea for all Radical ailments) is revived. The partisan press of the destructives base the threat upon a gratuitous assumption. They choose to suppose the case of a suspension of the Presidential functions pending a trial, and assert that in such a contingency the President has stated that he would resist an arrest. Now, we dare to say that no such monstrous outrage has been for a moment anticipated by any one. But in connection with this matter, it is suggested by the Chronicle, whose constitutional erudition is not to be questioned in Radical quarters, that whatever of legal difficulty existed in the proposed summary process might be easily cured by an act of Congress of ten lines, simply providing, that in case of impeachment the party impeached should be suspended from exercising the functions of his office. The only constitutional punishment being the deprivation of office, this ingenious device, by which the President is to be punished first and then tried afterwards, cannot be sufficiently admired, if not for its profundity, at least for its simplicity and effectiveness. In respect to what the President would do if approached in either of these directions, we have not thought it worth while to consider, but naturally suppose that he would not willingly submit to the degradation of the Executive office thus, however he might feel disposed to make any personal sacrifice to maintain public harmony.—Nat. Intel.

ROYAL COMPLIMENTS TO COLONEL MOSBY.—Major John Scott, of Fauquier, now in Europe, has just written, informing his friends here that the Prussian War Minister, Count Bismarck, has ordered a government translation of his late work, "Partisan Life with Mosby," for the purpose of adopting in the Prussian service the system developed by Colonel Mosby during the late war, regarding it as entirely original and effective. Also that the Russian War Minister and his Royal Highness, Crown Prince of Russia, have written him letters in high commendation of Colonel Mosby's newly developed system of warfare.—Warrenton Sentinel.

General Price died of chronic diarrhœa, contracted in Mexico.

THE HISTORY OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Messrs. Editors:—And so the public—all manner of "able editors" included—are calling on Gov. Swain to write the History of the State. Well! I suppose he can do it, about as well or better than any one else, and I hope he will. He ought to feel a certain thrill of pride at being so unanimously invoked to lay his (or his publishers) purse on the altar of a piously enthusiastic and impecunious State pride, and sacrifice it in so holy a cause on the very spot where so many other patriotic purses be bleeding. By all means, let him do it. I am myself unanimous for it, and I feel particularly cheerful in the prospect, because the Governor can afford it; which is more than can be said of the general run of North Carolina Historians. The fact is, it appears to me that the very first requisition for a Historian of this dear old noble State of ours, should be that he be able to pay the expenses of his book, and evoke a handsome yearly dividend from the receipts of the splendid reputation it will be sure to confer upon him.

I think we can all tell exactly what sort of book the Governor would produce, from the materials, for his first volume. Have we not read the North Carolina University Magazine? Does it require a prophet, or the son of a prophet, to foretell the headings of the chapters? War of the Regulation—Regulators,—Herman Husband—Fanning—Tryon—Extracts from proceedings of General Assemblies; and above all we may rely upon the Governor's making the most of Mrs. Gov. Tryon and Miss Anna Wake, and we shall be once more introduced to their grand party, and be again reminded that Wake county perpetuates the memory of the one solitary vision of grace or beauty, that lights up that exceedingly dismal waste of History, North Carolina under the Royal Governors.

Let me be pardoned for any appearance of dictation, if I suggest that the History of North Carolina, properly written out, should occupy many volumes. Dr. Hawks' work, it is admitted, has exhausted the Colonial History, and has been so accurately and elegantly executed as to preclude the necessity for ever doing that part over again. Dr. Hawks! What North Carolinian does not feel a glow of affectionate pride at the mention of his name. By the way, I wonder, I do wonder very much, what ever became of the $500 lost on that work. Will nobody ever find it? Will it always stay lost, like the Pleiad? I am pretty sure Mr. Hale would be glad to know. Perhaps the smoke of these patriotic enterprises, which become sacrifices, rises like grateful incense, &c. &c., consilio decrum immortalium. I hope Gov. Swain will "see it" in that light.

Beyond a doubt the Governor will devote one volume to the Royal Governors. I propose to skip that volume in my reading.—Volume 3. will chronicle the Revolutionary struggle, of course. We shall have Mecklenburg, and Moore's Creek, and King's Mountain, and Guilford, and Cornwallis, and Greene, and Caswell, and Burke, and the old Tory raider Fanning and all the rest of it. Lord! how our souls will glow; with what affecting fervor we will bless the memories of our grandfathers,—to say nothing of our grandmothers, who were busy nursing the babies who were destined to advance the History of our glorious old State to its fourth volume. How we shall hurrah for North Carolina; but the blessed part will be that Gov. Swain is doing it all for nothing,—and it won't cost the rest of us one cent. Hurrah for the dear old North State, and the Governor!

I think it highly probable that Governor Swain will be inclined to rest from his labors the Federal Union and leave to another generation the continuation of the narrative, which will record the foundation of the State University, the State Judiciary, the Seat of Government, &c., &c., and carry the breathless reader down the stream of time to the commencement of the late civil war. This revolution, and the exceedingly ticklish times which followed, will naturally occupy several volumes, and I venture tenderly to suggest to the Historian of that period to divide it into three eras: No. 1. to begin at the time South Carolina kicked the pail of milk over and began the muss; No. 2. to begin with our own secession and No. 3. to embrace Gov. Vance's administration, and end with the Hegira from Raleigh, and the arrival of General Atkins' 'critter company' at Chapel Hill, the upsetting of the beehive up there—the honeymoon, and the consequent buzzing and stinging that ensued. What delicious gossip for the year 1900!

But my imagination especially warms when, rapt into future times, I contemplate the picture North Carolina will leave for posterity of herself in the years '66 and '67.

The attention paid by any people to letters, to the promotion of learning and the fine arts, has ever been regarded as the most unerring indicator of their advance in all that makes a people great. And when in the midst of poverty, gloom, political oppression or revolution, provision is made for the education of the rising generation and of posterity, we feel as if no greater praise need be awarded than simply to state the fact. The establishment of Queen's College, in Mecklenburg, before the Revolution, and of the State University, immediately after, are quite as much to the credit of our Scotch-Irish ancestry, as the battle of King's Mountain or the defence of Charlotte.

What will the future Historian say of the present generation of North Carolina in that regard? What are her foremost men about? What will the back-bone and sinew of the State do? What will the vellum-bound books of 1950 say they did with their University at the close of the great civil war which left the South prostrate and ruined, as History had seldom recorded of any other people? What became of it? Were the buildings sold to pay the debts, and did they pass into the hands of some sect, or some Freedman's Bureau, or some young ladies' collegiate capitalists? Or did the men who owned fisheries on the great sounds in the East, the men who owned farms on great mountain slopes in the West, the men who raised rice in New Hanover and Bladen, the men who raised cotton in Edgecombe and Anson, the men who raised tobacco in Granville and Person, the men who raised corn and wheat in the fair vallies of Yadkin and Catawba,—did they all come forward, as one man, and say, "Take care of the State University. Here we pledge ourselves to its support. It shall do more than it has ever yet done, and we will leave it to our sons and grandsons as our most precious legacy?"

I am not a trustee, I am not a graduate, I never had a son to send to the University. I am in no way connected with it, but I have always regarded it with a sort of State pride, though I confess I never have thought it did all it ought.

I look with deep interest at its situation now, and, if I may say so, the way in which its trustees are managing its interests at this present writing appears to me the very finest illustration of "How not to do it," ever presented to the minds of a curious public. I believe it was Mrs. Nickleby who always took great credit to herself for her exertions to retrieve Mr. Nickleby's affairs when he failed. "Day and night," says she, "I implored him, 'For Heaven's sake, why don't you do something?'"

That is precisely the advice our trustees appear now-a-days to be giving each other. They write anxious letters; one man beseeches another man; and each one shuffles off the duty of the hour upon his neighbor. They resolve that something must be done—they appoint a committee to do it. I suppose the gentlemen composing that committee are competent—they ought to be. According to the North Carolina rule for judging of competency, every one has an "Hon." prefixed to his name. If that doesn't give a man insight into University policy, I don't know what does. I only hope they'll find time to go up to Chapel Hill and sweep, and dust, and ventilate thoroughly, and turn on a little gas and steam up there.

Meanwhile, the gentlemen of the Faculty, tired of waiting for something to turn up, and finding their number lessening one by one, have suddenly resigned in a body, upon the principle of sauve qui peut, and "devil take the hindmost." As it is not likely North Carolina will ever pay her debt to them, I propose that she call upon them all to set to work writing Histories. Prof. Fetter could employ his retirement upon a History of the North Carolina University Magazine, with short biographical notices of all its editors and contributors in each series, with a digression touching the pre-Adamite existence of the "Harbinger." Prof. Phillips might write the History of Astronomical discovery in North Carolina, with an inquiry into the ruins of the Observatory at Chapel Hill and what became of the bricks. Prof. Smith might give us the History of Chapel Hill itself, beginning with the foundation of the original pre-Revolutionary Chapel, from which the village takes its name, for which laudable purpose I have no doubt Gov. Swain will allow him free access to all his valuable historical papers; while Dr. Hubbard's elegant pen could not be better employed than in elaborating a full and true History of the University itself, from its earliest incipiency down to its present stand-point. I think this would be a notable and handsome way of disposing of these gentlemen, shelving them, so to speak, upon a nice little literary employment in the service of the dear old State, which would of course give them a splendid reputation and not cost nobody nothing, and in fact would be pleasant and satisfactory all round.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—We direct attention to Rosenbaum's regular advertisement and Special. He has received an elegant and commanding stock.

Mitchell, Allen & Co., Newbern: Every thing for Farmers and Mechanics.

Large importation of Choice Family Groceries: Douglas Bell, Market Square.

NEW FIRM.—Our excellent young friends, Geo. T. and William Stronach, have associated themselves together in business, under the name and style of Geo. T. Stronach & Bro. They will carry on an extensive Dry Goods and Grocery business at their store on Market Square. They have gone North for the purpose of laying in supplies, and will return in a few days and present their claims to the public. They are deserving, popular and energetic young men, and will doubtless do well.

BLAIR, of the "Yarbrough," always leads the advance. He has regaled his guests already with fine, luscious Norfolk oysters, done up in the highest style of the art culinary. He did not "forget the printer," and that tempts us to say, what we do say, that he is the very prince of "caterers and good fellows."

ANOTHER CHANGE OF SCHEDULE has gone into effect on the North Carolina Railroad. The trains from the West arrive at 10.28 A. M., and leave for the East at 10.35 A. M. The trains from the East arrive at 1.44 P. M., and leave for the West at 1.54 P. M. We learn that close connections are made at Goldsboro, for Newbern and Wilmington. We hear of no change on the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad as yet, but we presume that one will be made in order to secure, if possible, the proper connections at this point.

The only alteration which will be necessitated by this change, as it stands at present, in our publication arrangements, will be to dispense with our afternoon edition,—which we regret. The trains for the West leave at 1.54 P. M., and our noon telegraphic dispatches rarely arrive before that hour.

On a beautiful Sabbath morning last month, an accomplished young lady of this city remarked to her friends how sweet it would be to die and go to heaven on such a day. Nature was lovely, earth was quiet and the early church bells were calling creatures to the worship of the Creator. We do not know that the words were premonitory of the sequel—but on the following Sabbath morn her wish was gratified. The Angel of Death knocked at the door and in triumph she yielded her soul to the keeping of her God. And the day was as lovely and the earth as quiet as before, and the early church bells called the people to His praise.—Petersburg Index.

A new instrument is described (the "Iridiscope") by which it is said a person can see all that is going on in his own eye. This will add immensely to our stock of knowledge, considering how great a part of what most persons see is "all in their eye."

The dinner given by the New York Club to General Grant engaged the services of seven French cooks for ten days. It is fortunate for us all that ordinary dinners are secured at less outlay of time and labor, or we would be apt to get hungry.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

PERSON, Co., N. C., Oct. 2nd, 1867.

MESSRS EDITORS:—The country between Hillsboro' and Roxboro' is more level than in any other part of Orange and Person, which I have seen. The road is the best I have, as yet, travelled, and the surrounding country more thickly settled. The tobacco on the line of road looks well. I saw several new barns going up, preparatory to coal-curing the tobacco.

Arriving in Roxboro, I established myself at the only Hotel in the place, which, in justice to the proprietor, I must say that I think is equal to, if not better than, any I have yet had the pleasure of visiting. The hotel is conducted by Mr. Wm. H. Smith, well known as a former Sheriff of Person.

This county is renowned as the best hunting ground for squirrels and wild turkeys in this part of the State, and I would advise all, who desire to escape from the dusty streets of the city, to take a trip to Roxboro, the "Hunter's Paradise," and here in the enjoyment of fresh air, pure water, and the society of pretty women, forget the cares of business. Once established at "Smith's," enjoying all the comforts of city and country, he will turn to his good-humored neighbor, (every body is good humored in this section,) and exclaim "it is good for us to be here."

Just before my departure, I was invited to the marriage of a charming young couple at the hotel,—at least the bride was charming; and midst the flutter of white dresses, and with the sound of the "marriage bell" still ringing in my ears, I took my departure. May they be happy! R. P. H.

It is important that we should send to the convention men of calm, temperate, Conservative views, who, although opposed to the whole Radical programme, are prepared to show to the people of the North that we are willing to secure to the negro the most ample guarantees for the future protection of all his rights. While the gorge of the nation is rising from Maine to California at the thought of leaving ten Southern States at the mercy of the negro, the people of the South are to-day more solicitous for the future prosperity and happiness of the negro, than the Radicals of New England. All of us desire that he shall be educated, his self-respect stimulated, and his life, liberty and prosperity made absolutely secure.

And we hazard nothing in saying that while under the malignant and vile teachings of the Radicals the negro has rejected our proffers of concert of action upon a Conservative platform, and has hid the secrets of his policy in oath-bound societies, there will not be a Conservative delegate elected to the Convention who will not be willing to clothe him with fully as many rights and franchises as he possesses in nineteen-twentieths of the Radical States. And we hope that no man of violent and extreme opinions will be elected to the Convention, but that in every district in which Conservatism shall triumph the delegate shall be a just and true friend of both races.—Enquirer & Examiner.

SERENADE TO GENERAL BEAUREGARD.—It has been briefly announced that General Beauregard is in the city and stopping at the Spotswood Hotel. Last night, at about 12 o'clock, a large number of his friends and admirers tendered him the compliment of a serenade. After Kessnich's band had discoursed several sweet airs, the General made his appearance at a window and remarked:

"I thank you, my friends, for this kind and flattering reception, so unexpected to me. I regret my inability to express my acknowledgements in appropriate terms. It is my hope that you may bring to bear in your civil pursuits the same energy, zeal, and intelligence which you displayed in the late contest, and you will then surely meet with ample success. I again tender you my sincere thanks for this friendly demonstration."

Three cheers were given for General Beauregard, and the crowd quietly dispersed.—Rich. Dispatch, 5th.

The Lancaster (Pa.) Express of Tuesday evening says that the Hon. Thaddeus Stevens is recovering from his recent severe indisposition, and there are strong hopes of his again taking part in the affairs of the nation. To the few friends who were permitted to see him the last few days he spoke freely on public matters, and expressed strong hopes of being present at the meetjng of Congress next month.

We may, therefore, expect him to be more savage in his diabolical hatred of the South than ever. His "illnesses" always have that result

LOUISIANA.—The elections for the Convention to amend the State constitution of Louisiana took place a week ago, and we have not yet heard a word relative to the "complexion" of the members returned. We are informed that the Convention is carried—a result all anticipated—but the yet more important matter of the composition of the Convention itself is not communicated.

Some idea may be formed of the number of base-ball players by the fact that a single manufactory in Lynn, Mass., has made and sold thirty thousand pairs of shoes for base-ball players this season.

Many of the dwelling houses in Fifth Avenue have mirrors so placed as to reflect in the boudoir the figure of any person standing at the front door, by which "at home," or "not at home," is determined.—New York paper.

When a pen has been used until it appears to have been spoiled, place it over a flame (a gaslight, for instance,) for, say a quarter of a minute, then dip it in into water, and it will be again fit for use. A new pen which is found to be too hard to write with, will become softer by being thus heated.

Monday Morning Dispatches.

THE NEW YORK DEMOCRACY.

ALBANY, Oct. 5, M.

The following are among the resolutions adopted by the New York State Democratic Convention:

That regarding the National debt as a sacred obligation, we demand economy of the administration, honesty in the collection and application of the revenues, simplification of and equality in taxation, and a currency for the benefit of the people, instead of Corporations, to the end that the public faith may be preserved and the burdens of taxation lessened.

That we denounce the effort of the Radical party to retain the power it has usurped, by establishing negro supremacy in the South by military force, coupled with the disfranchisement of the mass of the white population, as an outrage upon Democratic principle, and an attempt to undermine and destroy the Republic; and that we stigmatize the refusal of that party, in this State, to submit the question of negro suffrage to the people, as a cowardly evasion of a prominent issue in the pending struggle.

CABLE SUMMARY.

Garibaldi escaped from Caprera, but was subsequently re-captured, and is now closely guarded.

It is said that the Emperors of France and Austria agreed, at Salzburg, who they would support for Pope.

It is rumored that Victor Emanuel has applied to the Great Powers to be relieved from the treaty stipulations binding him to maintain the integrity of the Papal dominions.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. P. M.

Stanbery's opinion sustains the State Courts in issuing writs of habeas corpus where soldiers and sailors are concerned.

In compliance with this opinion Secretary Welles has ordered Commodore Selfridge to obey the writ and produce in Court a sailor, in whose case he had previously directed Selfridge to resist by force, if necessary.

In consequence of heavy war and pension shipments, and light Revenue receipts, the debt statement shows an increase of $2,250,000. The Secretary anticipates heavier receipts during the current month, and thinks the next statement will show a decrease of several millions.

Revenue to-day $500,000. For the week $6 500,000. For the fiscal year to date $61,250,000.

The National note circulation is $280,000,000.

Commissioner Rollins has written a letter, stating that by law affidavits of all kinds are relieved from stamp duty.

BY THE CABLE.

LONDON, Oct 5, P. M.

Garibaldi has issued an address, urging his friends to go to Rome.

A Garibaldi meeting has been held at Turin.

It is reported that the Papal troops have been beaten at Vasmareau.

The Financial Custom Agent at Naples has been defrauding the Government at the rate of 30,000 francs during the past six years.

NEGRO POLITICS—MR. DAVIS' TRIAL, &C.

RICHMOND, Oct. 5, P. M.

It is understood that the black voters here have agreed to run three whites and two blacks for the Convention.

Hunnicutt and Wardwell are most prominently mentioned among the whites.

A Republican negro meeting in Henrico to-day nominated J. S. Swann for the Convention, throwing out an ex-Federal Colonel who was a candidate for nomination.

Mrs. Annie E. Kirby was convicted for the murder of her husband, and sentenced to seven years in the Penitentiary.

Mr. Davis' trial will certainly take place in November. The Counsel on both sides are ready. He is expected to arrive here about the 25th. of October.

"ÆTNA"

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

ASSETS $7,000,000.

THIS COMPANY ISSUES TEN YEAR NONFORFEITING ENDOWMENT POLICIES, contracting to pay the amount insured at death or the specified time.

An endowment policy presents the double attraction of providing for one's family or other dependents, in case he should be cut off before a specified age, or of securing to himself independence, in case he attains the age. Thus insuring for ten years, a note for one half of the cost will be taken by paying six per cent interest.

This plan gives, in addition to all the advantages of life insurance, a safe and convenient INVESTMENT for one's savings, till they have accumulated to a definite amount; which he receives in one sum at the specified time.

A RARE CHANCE.

I OFFER for sale, privately, the Farm on which I reside, situated in Franklin County, about three-fourths of a mile north of the town of Louisburg.

The tract lies between the Warrenton and Halifax roads, and contains about two hundred and seventy (270) acres—some twenty-five or thirty acres being good creek low-grounds, and the balance high-land, lying well for improvement. The timber is sufficient for farm purposes. The Dwelling House is a first-rate two-storied building, near the Warrenton road, and about one mile from the Louisburg Female College, conducted by Rev. T. M. Jones, and the same distance from the Male Academy, under the management of M. S. Davis, Esq. The reputation of these schools is well established. The Out-houses are sufficient in number and condition. There is a good well near the dwelling, and a very fine spring a little farther off.

For healthfulness, this place is deliberately pronounced equal to any of the summer resorts in this region of country.

I shall be pleased to show the premises to any one desiring to purchase.

Boots and Shoes, Boots and Shoes.

The largest and best stock I ever brought to the City, consisting, in part, of J. Miles & Sons' make, and others of equally high standing.

Ladies Sewed Balmorals, from $1,50 to $3,50.

CREECH'S is the place to come to buy your Boots and Shoes.

Hats, Hats, Hats,

From 75 cts. to $4,00. Don't stop until you come to CREECH'S to buy your Hats. In fact, I think I can meet the expectations of all my customers and the public generally, both as to price and quality of ALL Goods.

Now a few words to my customers and friends: You see a great many different styles of advertisements. Some say they are in "luck again;" some say they have "hit the nail on the head;" some "selling out at cost;" some to "make room for a new stock;" some one thing and some another. But allow me to say, whether I am in luck, or whether I hit the nail on the head, or whether I missed the nail entirely, or failed to advertise "selling out at cost," I have sold out my old stock, (while they are still hammering away over their old stock,) and have been North and bought a new stock. My goods are now in Store, and opened for inspection.

COME AND LOOK AT THEM.

I told my customers, six months ago, that I would sell goods as cheap as Yankee, Jew or Gentile, and I think I have made my word good.

I told the people to come to Creech's to buy their goods, that I would serve them right. Hundreds have come, and they are still coming from this and adjoining Counties. And I here take the privilege to say, I think they have shown their good judgment.

Don't forget to come to

MONDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1867.

"I AM PAPA'S."

Come, Lily, be my little girl,
And love me every day,
And I will give you pretty birds,
And toys with which to play.
She glanced up with her sweet grey eyes,
And looked into my face,
A look of innocent surprise,
Then said with modest grace—
I am papa's, and even in play
I cannot give myself away.

But think, I said, how many things
I'll give you if you will,
A garden full of rarest flowers,
Where you may seek your fill.
A smile played on her dimpled face,
But yet she answered low—
Though dearly I do love sweet flowers,
I'm sure I cannot go,
I am papa's, and even in play
I cannot give myself away.

A little pony you shall have,
With saddle of the brightest red;
And every day with grass and oats
He shall by your own hand be fed.
Her bright eyes sparkled—I should like
To ride that pony very much,
To feed him all myself, and find
He was obedient to my touch;
But I am papa's and even in play
I cannot give myself away.

Dear child, I cried, and clasped her tight,
I'm glad you love your father so,
But there is ONE whom 'twould be right
To love even dearer still; you know
He gives you all your daily food,
Your many pleasures, too, He gives;
He gave that loving father good,
'Tis due to God that he still lives.
Dear child, oh! may you ever say,
I am God's child, and Him obey.

THE GREAT STEAMSHIPS.

A late letter has some very interesting descriptions connected with ocean-steamers which may interest our readers. It was written from on board the steamer Persia, in mid-ocean:

"Any one who has ever felt like questioning the fact that a locomotive engine is among the marvelous creations of human skill, should study the mammoth machines which propel immense ocean steamers like the "Scotia" and the "Persia." There is something awful in this ponderous iron anatomy as it throbs and sobs in the bosom of these "huge leviathans." You have only to know that the engine of the Persia works up to three thousand horse power, consumes one hundred tons of coal daily, and employs sixty two engineers, firemen and laborers, to form some idea of its enormous dimensions and capacities. All this mass of metal and of men, with seventeen hundred tons of coal (at the starting,) is hidden away from the passengers, who, however they may long to reach their destination, and watch the hourly record of ocean travel, rarely take the pains of descending into the Plutonian caves to see and study the stupendous triumph of human genius, which is driving a ship of three thousand four hundred tons through the stormy and treacherous sea.

On my outward voyage, I frequently conversed with the chief engineer of the Scotia, and it has not been one of the least interesting ways of lessening the anxious and weary hours of my homeward passage to study the tremendous "works" of the Persia. And well have I been repaid for my pains. You have frequently, on shore, passed a forge, with its great hammers and red flames, and half naked men, looking like fiends cooking some infernal alchemy. Imagine a fiery laboratory like this, at ceaseless labor day and night, in the bosom of one of these floating palaces, and you will have some conception of the perils of a modern steam voyage, and of the extraordinary experience and courage demanded of the officers of a steamship like the Persia. The immense composite of wood and iron, in which I am now writing these lines, rests upon an under or outer plating of iron, not more than a quarter of an inch thick, and the heavy engine itself whirls its remorseless rounds and burns its unceasing flames between these thin partitions! I confess to an involuntary shudder, when the friendly chief engineer reminded me, as I walked through his subterranean quarters, and saw his men torturing the intense furnaces with their long tongs, and feeding these insatiate craters with incessant feasts of coal, that we were within a second of the whales, sharks, sword fish, and other humane citizens of the deep."

A CONFIRMED GRUMBLER.

Some time ago there lived in Edinboro' a well known grumbler named Sandy Black, whose often recurring fits of spleen or indigestion produced some amusing scenes of senseless irritability which were highly relished by all except the brute's good patient little wife. One morning Sandy rose bent on a quarrel. The haddies and eggs were excellent, done to a turn, and had been ordered by himself the previous evening, and breakfast passed without the looked for complaint.

"What will you have for dinner, Sandy?" said Mrs. Black.

"A chicken, madam," said the husband.

"Roasted, or boiled?" asked the wife.

"Confound it, madam! if you had been a good and considerate wife, you'd have known before this what I liked," Sandy growled out, and, slamming the door behind him, left the house.

It was in the spring, and a friend who was present heard the little wife say, "Sandy's bent on a disturbance to day; I shall not please him do what I can."

The dinner time came, and Sandy and his friend sat down. The fish was eaten in silence, and on raising the cover of the dish before him, in a towering passion he called out, "boiled chicken! I hate it, madam. A chicken boiled is a chicken spoiled."

Immediately the cover was raised for another chicken, roasted to a turn.

"Madam, I won't eat roast chicken," roared Sandy, "you know how it should have been cooked."

At that instant a broiled chicken, with mushrooms, was placed on the table.

"Without green peas!" roared the grumbler.

"Here they are, dear," said Mrs. Black.

"How dare you spend my money in that way!"

"They were a present," said the wife, interrupting him.

Rising from his seat, and rushing from the room amidst a roar of laughter from his friend, he clenched his fist, and shouted, "How dare you receive a present without my leave!"

A man named Tease married a Miss Cross. He teased her till she agreed she wouldn't be cross any more.

What shall the man say who is sitting on his wife's best bonnet? I'm sitting on the style, Mary.

A Western editor in one of his papers says: "For the effects of intemperance, see our inside."

A French lady, who held in her hand a glass of cool water, said: "Oh, if it were only wished to drink this, how nice it would be!"

COTTON GIN HORSE POWERS.

WE BEG LEAVE TO INVITE THE ATTENTION OF COTTON PLANTERS TO OUR

IMPROVED EIGHT-FEET STATIONARY POWER.

FOR

DRIVING COTTON GINS.

It is SIMPLE, STRONG and COMPACT, and can be easily put together. We sold a large number last season and the demand is constantly increasing.

The following letter from Col. Hood, of Surry County, speaks for itself:

* * * * It is with much pleasure that I state, your Gin Horse Power brought last season proved an entire success.

I applied a 13 feet lever and 6 feet band wheel to a 45 saw Gin, and one pair of ordinary mules which improved on constant work, and with slow gait of team gave sufficiency of speed; a capacity to gin about 4,000 per day.

The wear and tear in ginning 60 bales of cotton is not perceivable—do not think it could be estimated at 2 per cent. It was put up and geared by one of the best machinists in the state, who pronounced it superior to any patent he had seen; also, several gentlemen familiar by long use of gins, have examined it and decided to lay aside their old screws and order this pattern of you.

Yours, most respectfully, WM. H. HOOD.

RAILROADS.

ATLANTIC & N. C. RAILROAD

AND

GRAND TRUNK RAILROAD,

From Charlotte and all Points on the N. Carolina and its Connecting Railroads, to the Seaboard at Newbern and Morehead City.

THE STATE OWNS THREE-FOURTHS OF the North Carolina Railroad and three-fourths of the ATLANTIC & N. C. RAILROAD. This is the

STATE LINE,

To its OWN SEAPORT; and on its OWN ROADS. All other lines are in opposition.

A six per cent dividend on this line will save the people from taxation $50,000 per annum.

Under a resolution of the Stockholders of the N. C. Railroad, all Freights are to go via Goldsboro', unless otherwise specially directed by shippers.

When at Goldsboro', you are only sixty miles from the shipping point, instead of one hundred and sixty via Weldon, and eighty via Wilmington. Our Steamers are equal to any other line, both for Freight and Travel. Time as short as by any other, and as cheap.

THIS is the Line

To ENCOURAGE. You get dispatch, safety, but one handling, and less Railroad transportation than by any other line.

Three-fourths of the PROFITS made on this line go directly into the STATE TREASURY, and if encouraged, you will soon be relieved from heavy taxation at least two hundred and ninety-five thousand dollars.

The Railroads composing the N. C. GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY LINE have recently agreed to unite in a

GREAT THROUGH LINE

Route to all the Northern Markets, on equal terms and charges, via our own ports to and from the North.

A Cheap Cotton Press.

FARMERS, BEFORE YOU BUY A PRESS OR build a Screw, enquire into the merits of the

GODWIN COTTON PRESS.

Hear what the following reliable gentlemen say:

I have seen Mr. J. H. Godwin's Cotton Press work at Mr P. E. Smith's plantation, and it does all that he says it does in his advertisement and more. I think it superior to any other mode of packing Cotton, and saves both time and labor.

W. R. SMITH.

I have used the above mentioned Press, and consider it the best I ever saw for packing Cotton.

THOS. J. VAUGHAN.

I have packed about 100 bales of Cotton with Mr. J. H. Godwin's Cotton Press, and take pleasure in recommending it to the farmers as a great labor-saving machine. It does not cost more than half as much as a Screw, and is worth twice as much.

It is so convenient, and takes fewer hands to do as much work as a Screw. I would pay the price of a Press rather than allow a man to put up a screw on my place for nothing.

D. EDMONDSON.

I have used the above mentioned Cotton Press, and it does better than a Screw. Takes less hands, does not waste Cotton, and is much cheaper.

J. H. CURRY,
Sup't W. R. Smith's Plantation.

I have packed about 70 bales with Godwin's Cotton Press, and am certain it is the best, cheapest, most compact and durable Press in existence, costing only half, at first, and lasting twice as long as a Screw.

PETER E. SMITH,

I have never seen the Cotton Press of Mr Jno. H. Godwin at work, but have no doubt, from the certificates of the gentlemen above, that it performs all they say of it. I know them to be gentlemen of character and veracity, and that their statements are entitled to credit

RICHARD H. SMITH.

The last name is one of our most honorable and respectable citizens, well known as a former member of the Legislature. I offer this PRESS as combining more advantages for packing than any now in use; it is adapted to large or small farms, and is so simple and cheap, that any good mechanic can build it. It is well adapted to

WATER-POWER.

It is 10 or 11 feet wide; 8 feet and 3 inches thick; top of frame above ground, 16 feet; highest part of Lever, 18 or 19 feet. The platform on which the bale is turned out, is 10 feet above ground.

Length of box, 10 feet in the clear.

Length of bale 5 feet, by 2 feet 4 inches. Weight 500 or 600 lbs. It is put up flat against the Lint Room, thereby preventing the scattering of the Cotton and need of baskets.

The Press is chiefly built of scantlings.

The Inventor has spared no pains in his experiments to make it practicable, convenient and cheap. I charge

$25 for a Single Right.

The total cost including cover and everything is about $150. Much of that, farmers are not in the habit of including as cost.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2, 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God," which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

SEC. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such state by the commanding general, giving to each representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

SEC. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates, as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

SEC. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open and examine, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general, within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

SEC. 5. That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

SEC. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot, and the officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

SEC. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

SEC. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers, and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

SEC. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."

THE FIRE EXTINGUISHER.

This Portable, Self-Acting Fire Engine

IS OFFERED TO THE Public as a ready, certain and speedy means of preventing LARGE CONFLAGRATIONS.

Until the invention of the

Portable, Self-Acting Fire Engine,

Fires have been met by means too slow, too late and too cumbrous. But few persons in this country have the advantage of large hand or Steam Fire Engines, and those few often suffer a total loss of their property by reason of the great length of time consumed in sending for and getting them into working order.

BUT NOT SO WITH THE FIRE EXTINGUISHER,

which, being kept charged and standing in your House, Store or Factory, is always Ready for Instant Service.

The fire can be extinguished and your property saved without loss or damage, or even an alarm of Fire.

The first few minutes of conflagration decide the fate of the property; "a little fire is quickly put out, which, being suffered, rivers cannot quench."

THE EXTINGUISHER, being very simple in its operation, and entirely self-propelling, requires no previous skill or practice to operate it, and being so light, portable and self-acting, is capable of being used in any place, by any person, male or female.

It puts out all fires, arising from whatever cause. You are saved from the immense water damage caused by large Engines.

You can effect insurance on your property

At Lower Rates,

if protected by the Extinguisher.

The Extinguisher is no humbug, as thousands of good men in Europe and America will testify. I have already put these little Engines into some of our best Factories and largest Schools in N. C.

No House, Store, Factory, or Corporation is safe without them.

The price is as nothing, compared with the protection they afford.
